ONLY ONE

The Record in Barre Is a Unique One.
If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ailment and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Barre citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

C. A. Churchill, contractor and builder, of 35 Merchant street, Barre, Vt., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from E. A. Brown, druggist, through our Barre newspapers in a statement given eight years ago. I used them at that time and was so greatly benefited that I kept on taking them until the symptoms of kidney complaint and weakness of the back and loins disappeared. It is now as much pleasure to recommend this valuable remedy as it was at the time when they relieved me of my pain and suffering. I have on several occasions used Doan's Kidney Pills since then and always with the same good results. They are certainly worthy of endorsement and I have advised many friends and acquaintances to use them."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY

President C. H. Spooner is in Boston, attending to matters pertaining to the university.

The contract for grading the top of the grounds has been awarded to J. C. Rice and the work is rapidly progressing.

Word has been received that Charles H. Eaton, N. U. '09, has taken up a claim of government land, some 40 miles east of Denver, Col.

Arthur G. Baker, N. U. '03, is spending a few days in town. Mr. Baker is now employed as a lumber inspector for the Mutual Fire Insurance company of Boston.

Information has been received that George C. Randall, N. U. '04, has again been promoted, and now has entire charge of the cars and engines on the Colorado Southern railway system. Mr. Randall's headquarters are at Denver, Col.

Major Henry W. Hovey of the 24th Infantry, U. S. A., was retired from active service in an order issued by the war department, Wednesday, November 6, 1907. Major Hovey has been in ill health for some time so the news does not come entirely unexpected.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Reklina de la Torre to Frank S. Brown, N. U. '03. Mr. Brown left Norwich at the end of his sophomore year, and entered Dartmouth college, from which institution he was graduated in 1903. Since graduation Mr. Brown has been employed in the department of commerce and labor, Boston, Mass. He is also a member of the first Regiment, Massachusetts coast artillery.

The question discussed Friday afternoon by Sections A and B of the Freshman class was "Resolved, that the dismissal of the negro regiments from the U. S. army is desirable." Great interest was manifested by the different speakers. Cadets Stahl, Drake, Park, Snow and Martin spoke favoring and Cadets Eastman, Field, Richmond, Brodie and Howard opposing the resolution. The question was decided in favor of the negative by the judges.

Dr. C. D. Tenney, who has charge of the foreign students being educated in the United States, was present at chapel exercises Friday evening and gave a brief, but very interesting talk to the cadets upon the importance of maintaining friendly relations between the countries in the Orient, especially China. He spoke of China as a great country, with great possibilities, destined to be in the East what America is in the West. Dr. Tenney first went to China as a missionary, but was soon elected president of Tung Tai university which position he held for a period of 10 years. He has been engaged in his present work about two years. The two Chinese students, who are in the university were placed here at the suggestion of Dr. Tenney, and their work bears out his statement that the Chinese are a highly intelligent people. Mr. Chen of the Sophomore class is one of the ranking orators in the organization and the president of his class. Mr. Tong of the Freshman class is also doing work of high order. Both young men are from Canton.

The Wings of Mountains.
Over the years were divided with summer and winters and springs, Afar in the fathomless ages of silence, the mountains had wings.
For, first of the works of creation are they of the towering crests,
And great was their glory; and greater the pride in their cavernous breasts.

They soared to the bounds of the heavens; prodigious in power and girth They swept like an army of shadows. Yes, truly, untamable was earth! But darily they menaced each other, and, wanton in anger, at length They sundered the peace of creation in battle to measure their strength.

Now, rolling together, the ranges in thunderous conflict were hurled. The crash of the helmeted summits were scattered abroad through the world; Till He that created the mountains, Bestower of all that is good, Discovered the wings from their shoulders and rooted the hills where they stood.

Still, marshalled in order of battle the wide-rolling ranges are seen; But calm are the helmeted summits, and broad are the valleys between. The snows of the ages have whitened the pride of the towering crests, And sunk are the passionate fires that burned in the cavernous breasts.

But still in the silence of evening, the clouds of the heavens enfold The bulk of the great, shaggy shoulders in ivory, crimson and gold. For they were the wings of the mountains; and still, to be token to men The mercy of Him who hath made them, they come to the mountains again.

A petition has been circulated and generally signed by the business men of the town to the post office, asking that the Central Vermont Railway company re-instate Daniel McCarthy in his old position at the freight depot. Mr. McCarthy is popular with the business men, has had a long experience in the work, and patrons are anxious to have him back in his old place.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Welch met with quite a serious accident Monday afternoon. Mr. Welch was delivering express and Mrs. Welch was riding with him. He drove into Prof. Woodbury's yard and had just stepped off the wagon and in taking the package out rattled some boards in the back of the wagon, which frightened the horse. As it sprang toward the steep bank, Mrs. Welch started to jump, but was struck by the wheels as the wagon turned over and thrown violently to the ground, bruising her arm, but otherwise not injuring her. Mrs. Welch was taken into Mr. Woodbury's house and later taken home.

About 25 parents met at the Northfield high school building Monday evening in response to the invitation of Principal Wright, who wished to meet all parents interested in the welfare and betterment of the village schools. Prof. Wright gave a very interesting talk on discipline and urged the co-operation of the parents with the teachers. After his talk, those present were requested to ask questions as to methods, discipline, etc. Prof. Wright plans to make these meetings a regular thing, believing much benefit to both teacher and parent will be derived therefrom.

A very pleasant gathering of about sixty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Besides leaving their good wishes they left a fitting remembrance of silver and some money, as a token of their good will.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bliss and Miss Sylvia, returned home from their trip to Philadelphia and Washington Friday evening. They report fine weather and a thoroughly enjoyable journey. Besides the above mentioned cities, they visited Mount Vernon, Arlington, Alexandria and Fredericksburg, Va. In the three latter places are large and well kept national cemeteries and at Alexandria they found the grave of William H. H. Marsh, a brother of Mrs. Bliss. The cemetery at Fredericksburg occupies a portion of Mary's Heights, and contains the bodies of more than fifty thousand soldiers, all but about twenty-five hundred of whom are unknown. In a drive over the battlefield, Mrs. Bliss was able to recognize places visited by him under quite other circumstances in December 1862.

TROUT AT HIGH ALTITUDE.

Stocking a Lake in the Pyrenees Frozen Ten Months a Year.

Trout culture at high elevation has been tried in the Pyrenees with great success, says the New York Sun. The place selected was Lake Barrodes, which lies in a broad valley 7,900 feet above sea level and has a surface of about twenty-five acres. Long continued observation had established the fact that there were no fish whatever in it. In the summer the water was so warm that life had never reached its waters.

In August, 1906, a company of sportsmen who are interested in the Pyrenees had 400 trout spawn carefully carried up to the lake and deposited in the water. By September 1 the entire surface of the lake was frozen over, and the ice did not begin to melt again until July of this year. It was near the end of the month before the entire sheet had disappeared.

Then the search for the young fish began, and at first there was no result. Not a sign of them could be found. The sportsmen were about concluding that they had been deceived when all of a sudden they appeared, swimming in swarms near the surface of the lake and exploring all the shallow places along the shores.

It is believed that their failure to appear at first was due to the coldness of the surface water, which drove them to the depths of the lake, where they found a milder and more constant temperature. Later, as the water grew warmer, they came nearer the surface. The fish will be allowed to grow and multiply for some years before any attempt is made to catch any.

Bigelow of Brookfield, traveling representative of Peck, Clark & Co., of Brookfield, manufacturers of horse rakes, cart hooks, forks, etc., was in town on business Monday as were also the following: Prosper Alger of Stratford, C. L. Spear of West Corinth, Mrs. A. P. Cook and daughter, Mrs. C. R. Bailey, of Colville, Henry C. and Curtis H. Kibbee of Brookfield and George P. Bragg of West Fairlee.

Stanley C. Wilson and W. H. Sprague were in Thetford Center Tuesday to attend a hearing of State vs. W. J. Bean of Boston for assault and battery. Mr. Wilson was the respondent's counsel and Mr. Sprague was a witness in the case. The hearing was before Justice George S. Worcester and State's Attorney M. M. Wilson was the prosecuting officer. The respondent was bound over to county court and bail fixed at $200, which he furnished and returned to Boston. Mr. Bean is a traveling salesman and former resident of Randolph.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

La Barre Bros' minstrels which opened at the Academy of Music last evening were greeted by a large audience, and the performance was thoroughly enjoyed.

Le Barre Bros' troupe is not a very large one and does not rely on elaborate staging for its effects, but it does on a first class article of clean, refined minstrelsy.

The performance opened with the usual circle which was unusual in its quality. The songs, some of which were new were well rendered and the four comedians kept the audience in laughter. The jokes were well told and were refreshingly free from suggestiveness or vulgarity.

In the olio the first number Tommy Hayes, bone soloist took the house by storm, with one of the neatest of its kind ever seen here. George Foster's singing and dancing comedian furnished much amusement. Coderi and Black sang and dance duo did some exceptionally good waltz shoe dancing. Joe Sindig sang characted songs well and Carena and Dalmia showed much ability as club swingers and hoop jugglers.

But probably the most artistic act on the programme was that of Platte, billed as "The Violet Girl"—Platte is not a girl, but he kept the audience guessing and proved a very clever, female impersonation turn.

There will be a matinee this afternoon and the closing performance will be given tonight.—Halifax Chronicle.

At the Barre opera house Saturday evening, November 16th.

"The Heart of Maryland" Last Night.

Belasco's "The Heart of Maryland" was the bill at the opera house last evening, and the old piece came to life under the warming influence of a few good actors in such a manner as to please a fair-sized audience. A war story, in which the (by this time) almost worn-out story of brother-against-brother (this time father-against-son) figures strongly, the piece gives a splendid chance for the participants to play upon the feelings of the audience. But, of course, the chief underlying current is the love which attracts a young officer and a young patriot woman (on opposite sides of the struggle), their complete renunciation of everything but each other making the fitting denouement.

In the most prominent part, James Cruise as the estranged son, an officer in the Union army, was good. Alice Leal Pollock, as his sweetheart and the woman whose heart was torn 'twixt love and duty, was likewise agreeable, while Homer Barton played the drunken, cowardly traitor Colonel Fulton Thorpe with as much realism that the audience wanted to hiss, but finally ended in hearty applause. The company was only fair.

MACHINERY TURNS OUT

$160,000 IN GOLD HOURLY

Philadelphia Mint to Coin $52,000,000 in Double Eagles, Also $150,000 in Silver, to Relieve the Stringency.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—The United States mint in this city yesterday delivered $1,000 in gold double eagles to the sub-treasurer in this city. It is stated that within the next three months the mint will coin $52,000,000 in double eagles.

This enormous amount of gold will be distributed among the sub-treasuries in various parts of the country in order to relieve the money stringency. Many of the mint employees are working overtime.

New machinery has recently been installed in this mint, and its efficiency was demonstrated in the operation of the "split collar," a device for putting stars on the edges of the newly designed double eagles. There are 46 stars on the edge of each piece because of the approaching advent of the new state of Oklahoma in the union.

The machinery at the mint is capable of grinding out 4,000 of these pieces in an hour.

As soon as $150,000 in half-dollar pieces and a similar amount in quarters are sent out from the mint within a day or two, the attention of the mint will be devoted exclusively to the task of supplying gold.

Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by Red Cross pharmacy. Price 50c.

WILL REOPEN SLATE BUSINESS.

New York Capitalists Arrange for Operations at Hyde.

Rutland, Nov. 14.—Announcement is made of the formation of a new slate company at Hyde known as the Metallo Slate company. New York capitalists are said to be back of it. The company will do business strictly on union lines. It has purchased the old Litchfield mill and will install the most modern machinery and open a new quarry.

New Yorkers have been contemplating the project for some time and the long drawn out strike in the district gave a good opportunity to promote their union scheme.
